Remove insects fast with Rameder

Statistically speaking, modern cars' aerodynamic design means fewer dead insects on windscreens than ever before. But during long trips on motorways, windscreens still get somewhat opaque rather fast. But with the inexpensive Rameder insect remover "made in Germany" even very sticky remains can be removed fast and gently, fortunately: spray it on, let it work, rinse and you are done! A 500ml spray costs only €4.49.

Its gentle ingredients mean you can also apply Rameder insect remover on painted or plastic surfaces, i.e., wherever dead flies simply look ugly. And it also removes bird droppings, petrol remains, exhaust remains and diesel soot. The biologically degradable product can thus always be used before you wash your car (or have it washed).
